(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Ogden, Nov. 15.—At a meeting of the city council this evening bills to the amount of $2,250.00 were allowed and warrants for them were ordered drawn. A warrant for $45.75 was drawn in favor of William Doyle for work on sidewalks. The report of the sanitary officer showed Ogden to have 14 cases of scarlet fever, 1 of diphtheria, 4 of typhoid fever and 1 of chickenpox.

The report of the treasurer showed a balance of $7,883.23. A payroll amounting to $90.14 of the waterworks department was approved and claims of $60.74 against that department were allowed.

The ordinance granting the O. S. L. right to lay a switch in Wall avenue passed first and second readings and was given to the streets and law committees.

The services of the street sprinkler were dispensed with for the year. The road supervisor was instructed to make necessary repairs to the road leading from Washington avenue to the State Industrial school.

The appointment made Sheriff Wilson, which had been endorsed by Judge Howell, was approved by the commissioners. Bailiff Perry immediately entered upon his duties in the district court.

William W. Shaw of Pleasant View was appointed deputy sheriff of that district, to serve without compensation except when acting under orders from the sheriff.

The committee on roads from the West Weber district was instructed to enter into a contract with the West Weber Construction company for the driving of culverts at the bridge between West Weber and Warren.

HORSE RUNS INTO STORE.

Frightened Animal Causes a Commotion in Ogden Streets.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Ogden, Nov. 15.—An exciting runaway occurred early this morning on lower Twenty-fifth street. About 7:30 o'clock the Troy laundry delivery horse became frightened by the whistle of a laundry and ran away. It dashed around the corner of Wall avenue and Twenty-fifth street and, in the confusion, it struck a woman who was carrying a laundry basket. The horse was badly cut, but no bones were broken. A remarkable feature is that the animal dragged a twenty-four-pound weight attached to a strap.

Funeral service will be announced later.

PROVES CHARGES FALSE

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Ogden, Nov. 15.—Brigham Moser, deputy fish and game warden, has returned from Panguitch Lake, where he investigated the charges made against John Sharp, former warden, who was charged with having stocked the lake with chubs. The people in the vicinity of the lake are much opposed to the chubs, which they call the "Sharp-Walkers." The investigation is said to have been very thorough and vindicated Mr. Sharp entirely.

To overcome the chubs it is proposed to plant black bass, which prey on the chubs. By this it is said the chubs will be turned into a benefit, rather than a detriment to the industry. It is also the intention of the fish and game commissioners to establish a hatchery at or near the lake, probably at Panguitch City.

John Hoon and Judge J. Childers were here yesterday and were convinced that the introduction of the chub into Panguitch lake would be a blessing to the industry. Until they saw the conditions in the lake, they were opposed to the chub and other common fish, but now they say they will advocate their introduction into the waters of the state.

BIG HOTEL PLANNED.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Logan Boosters Get Together on Project for Building.

Logan, Nov. 15.—The Commercial Boosters held a big meeting here last night to consider the proposition of building a new hotel for the city, and the outcome of the meeting was encouraging. For some years there has been a fight here between the hotel and the tourist trade. The boosters proposed an improvement of the hotel side and a new hotel, while a hotel proprietor has been agitated for some time, nothing has been done because of the fight. Last night, however, an arrangement was effected which, it is believed, will remove friction and insure a new hotel. An agreement was drawn up which provides that those who sign it shall contribute at least $100 to the $50,000 capital of the proposed company, and when all subscriptions have been made there shall be a meeting at which each subscriber shall have one vote only as to the place of location for the hotel. Fifteen days after the meeting the offering of sites and the taking of subscriptions.

FALLS FROM POLE.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Richfield, Nov. 15.—Tom Brown, local manager for the electric light company, met with a serious accident Saturday night and is now in a precarious condition at his home. He was placing an incandescent cluster at Main and Second North streets, to replace an arc light which had gone out of commission. The street light was up at the point, and as soon as darkness came, and Mr. Brown discovered that the arc was not burning, he went to the ground when his support strap became loosened and he was thrown to the ground. When he fell he struck his head on a wire and broke his spine. He was carried home, and Dr. Steiner is attending him. His spine and hip are injured.

A FOOD DRINK

Which Brings Daily Enjoyment.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

A lady doctor writes: "Though busy hourly with my own affairs, I will not deny myself the pleasure of taking a few minutes to tell of my enjoyment daily obtained from my morning cup of Postum. It is a food beverage, not a drug like coffee. I began to use Postum eight years ago, not because I wanted to, but because coffee, which I dearly loved, made me nervous and unfit for business during the day."

"On advice of a friend, I first tried Postum, making it carefully as suggested on the package. As I had always used cream and no sugar, I mixed my Postum so. It looked good, was clear and fragrant, and it was a pleasure to see the cream color it as my Kentucky friend always wanted her coffee to look like a new saddle."

"Then I tasted it critically, for I had tried many 'substitutes' for coffee. I was pleased, yes, satisfied with my Postum in taste and effect, and am yet, being a constant user of it all these years."

"I continually assure my friends and acquaintances that they will like Postum in place of coffee, and receive benefit from its use. I have gained weight, can sleep and am not nervous."

BOY'S STORY GETS AN UNCLE INTO TROUBLE

Provo Justice Has Knotty Problem, but It Is Solved After Lad Tells Truth.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Provo, Nov. 15.—One of the most peculiar cases ever encountered in a justice's court here came up today before A. A. Noon, a justice of the peace. Last Wednesday Will Lawhorn is said to have stolen a pair of shoes from the New York clothing store, and when arraigned today he was charged with larceny. When arrested he had a pint of whiskey and he told the officers that the liquor had been given him by his uncle, T. L. Lawhorn. He entered a plea of guilty to the larceny charge and told the justice his uncle had taken the shoes and that he had not had the opportunity to give them to his relative. He said he was 18 years of age.

After hearing his story the justice suspended sentence until later in the day, and T. L. Lawhorn was arrested on the charge of furnishing liquor to a minor. Will Lawhorn appeared in court today against his uncle, but his testimony was broken down by that of his grand father, F. H. Lawhorn, and another witness. The youth then admitted that he was but 17 years of age, a fact that threw the case out of the justice's court, and he was discharged and the whiskey him self. The uncle was discharged and the lad will be held for the juvenile court on the charge of larceny.

SALESMAN GIVES TALK

Y. M. C. A. Students Some Good Advice.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

In addition to the regular program of the salesmanship class at the Y. M. C. A. last night a practical talk was delivered by one of the commercial travelers passing through the city, Charles Elliott of New York. "Any business man," he declared, "might be taught how to handle the public to better advantage. Among some of the necessary qualifications of a successful salesman are:

"Good approach, including politeness and courtesy; use every person thoughtfully. Being a comparatively newcomer to the work of business, I also consider a ready approach used by some of the salesmen I meet rubs the wrong way. Accuracy, tact and promptness are other qualities which successful road men are anxious to develop. I also consider it a valuable selling point to work for a house which has but one price."

Next Monday will be the last night open to all men of the city free of charge. The enrollment of the course is limited to forty. John D. Spencer of the New York Life Insurance company is the instructor.

THEOSOPHICAL LECTURE

Students Hear an Instructive Lecture on the Fourth Dimension.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Preliminary to taking up a winter study in the advanced teachings of theosophy, the local Theosophical society concerned itself with studies concerning the mystical fourth dimensions of matter at its regular Monday night meeting held in the society rooms in the Commercial club building last night. William Rice, vice president of the society, performed the office of instructor, lecturing from a series of charts and mathematical drawings. Told in brief, the fourth dimension idea is related to the higher assertions and beliefs of theosophy in this sense: All physical matter, including humanity, is three-dimensional, so far as the human brain can conceive. The only way in which the fourth dimension can be comprehended is by getting away from the viewpoint of a three-dimensional creature, and considering the mind as necessary for comprehension of the fourth, fifth, sixth or seventh planes, as they are styled, of so-called astral thought as taught by theosophy. Hence, the application of the fourth dimension idea.

Membership in the society is free, continuing continually, and last night's class was a large one, filling the reading room to overflowing.

Appendicitis Gravely Threatens to Wipe Out the Turkey Supply

Three turkeys solemnly stalked Indian file into the yard of the city jail at 3:47 p. m. yesterday, did the lock-step into the corridor and with serious purpose of purpose sufficing their drooping combs, hopped upon the operating table in the emergency hospital and announced in sepulchral tones: "We have it."

"Have what?" queried Dr. S. G. Paul in breathless anxiety as he surveyed the recumbent forms of the three "turkeys."

"Get wise to yourself. It's Turkish appendicitis, and it's lately become the rage among the select set of the barnyard," he replied, "the oldest and toughest of the three turkeys, a blase old chap whose comb bore the scars of many battles, and perked up in indignation at the physician's low whistle of amazement."

"It's not for us to grace the Thanksgiving table with the select set of the barnyard," he replied, "the oldest and toughest of the three turkeys, a blase old chap whose comb bore the scars of many battles, and perked up in indignation at the physician's low whistle of amazement."

time had passed and temperature had changed. McLough got one-half block from the police station, and no further. There he surrounded a half pint of "squirrel whisky" and surrendered to the police.

Collins got as far as the Y. M. C. A. corner. There he got a half pint bottle from a friend. He shrugged his shoulders as the biting wind nipped his thin garments, then he turned around and walked right back into the police station. Both were charged with drunkenness.

RAIN DOES MUCH HARM

Rivers and Creeks in Missouri and Kansas on the Rampage and Traffic Delayed.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Joplin, Mo., Nov. 15.—An intermittent rain which has fallen in this district for eight days, at times in torrents, has flooded all lowlands, filled mines to the top and ruined crops. All streams in southwestern Missouri and southeastern Kansas are rapidly rising.

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 15.—The Kansas river is falling slowly today, after having reached a maximum height of 29.9 feet at an early hour. There has been little or no damage here owing to the dikes, but west of Topeka the water overtopped the lowlands, causing some loss to growing wheat and corn in the shock.

The Union Pacific trains from Manhattan to Topeka are running today over the Santa Fe tracks, because the water covers the rails in the vicinity of Wamego.

Acheson, Kan., Nov. 15.—Heavy rains between Effingham and Blue Rapids have completely annulled through service on the central branch of the Missouri Pacific railroad. The railroad bridge over Vermilion creek near Viliets went out and the railroad tracks have been washed out in many places.

HOLDUP MAN IDENTIFIED

Detective Ripley Says Ogden Prisoner Is Salt Lake's "Gentleman Robber."

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

"Salt Lake's gentlemanly holdup no longer need be feared," said Detective Earl Ripley last night on his return from Ogden, where he positively identified Egbert Watson as the man who, within the last few days, robbed a city drug store and the Schramm-Johnson drug store in this city. Watson is the man who was known as "the gentlemanly holdup" and was captured by George and Thomas Wilson in their grocery at Ogden Saturday night, following the outward signs of a disease which is nothing more nor less than appendicitis.

Dr. Theobald Smith and Dr. E. E. Tyzzer of the Harvard medical school discovered the disease. The announcement reached medical men of this city yesterday. The findings of these men is that the old-fashioned "turkey" ail, or "the grip," which is almost universal, has become a country-wide contagion, and so serious is the danger of its price is almost universal.
